Dear friends:

Welcome to the Compatibility and Conflict Report for Business and Friendship and the myriad ways of expressing the continual dance of relationship. This report is based on methods employed through years of working with relationships of all kinds, observing them and analyzing the lives of the famous and infamous. The contacts described in this program are certainly not all the combinations possible between two individuals. But they are the core patterns of relationship analysis that I begin with in determining areas of compatibility and potential conflict between individuals. These basic points of contact are analyzed to arrive at an interpretation of what is central for a strong relationship or for one that teaches something of importance and leaves a lasting impression.

In many of the interpretations, I've described the highest potential that one can strive for with a particular combination. Yet this is only a potential and being human we have complex emotions and contradictory issues and reactions at any given time in our lives. Use this report as a guide to make your relationships as rewarding and fulfilling as you possibly can while knowing that your relationships are simply mirroring your own soul's struggles. Each relationship will fulfill something within you and challenge you to look at your shadow and transform yourself. Sometimes this means staying in a relationship and sometimes the learning process requires that you let the relationship go. These decisions are never easy and they should only be made after careful and truthful introspection, reflection and guidance. But ultimately, these decisions are yours and yours alone to make. Remember that although you may have some difficult areas of relating with a particular person, it is in those areas that you can learn the most about yourself and others and grow in wisdom. It would be a mistake to look for a business partner or friend with whom you have no disagreements at all and this kind of relationship is a fantasy, rarely if ever, a reality.

Thank you for purchasing the report and I hope it is meaningful and useful to you.

Special thanks to John Flagg for unflagging editorial support.

Chapter 1: Bonds For Energy, Fun and Lasting Impressions

This section is based on the idea that there are three basic needs in every relationship:

Interest, energy and stimulation.

Enjoyment, abundance, expansion of awareness/possibilities and sense of contentment or happiness.

Commitment, consistency, teaching each other, sharing values or reaffirming/confirming something essential in each other.

The sort between your charts is for eleven separate aspects that define energy, fun and lasting impressions between you. Most strong relationships have at least four to six of these aspects between their charts.

USA's Sun Square George W.'s Moon:

Core Themes: A challenging aspect of the Sun and Moon between you can initially attract or repel or both. The outcome depends on other planetary connections between your charts. Respect and recognition of each other's essential personality is vital with this combination. Your approach and attitude toward life or some of your habitual patterns will be very different from the other person's. Sometimes these aspects indicate a lack of appreciation for the life view, habits or patterns of the other. Lack of appreciation or respect will quickly erode the relationship you wish to forge. This aspect can indicate that, on a regular basis, you'll need space away from each other or to get away from shared projects you are working on. Then, when you get together again, each of you will appreciate what the other can offer and bring plenty of new experiences or ideas into the mix.

As you get to know each other, you may find that you disagree on some important or basic issues concerning your work or a project. Initially, this will produce conflict but it also offers you the opportunity to understand something more about your business associate and subsequently yourself. Do not minimize or belittle the other's strong feelings or opinions. Learn instead to allow each other to have your say and find ways to strike a compromise. If one of you always gives in to the wishes or demands of the other conflict will ensue. Of course, you cannot expect to agree at all times, but you can learn to tolerate a style or strengths in the other that are different from your own. These differences can in fact complement your business relationship. There will be times when you feel that the two of you are going in opposing directions or that you just rub each other the wrong way. This may in fact be true but it allows you the opportunity to talk about what each of you want and how you can find common ground.

USA's Sun Sextile George W.'s Mars:

Core Themes: The main intent of this aspect is to motivate you to act, to create, achieve and develop a greater sense of identity and destiny, in fact, to go out and meet your destiny. You may find yourself being somewhat competitive with each other. But with this aspect between your charts, a healthy competition can enable each of you to move ahead and maximize the energy generated when you are together. Fortunately, your competitive edge tends to be smoother and easier to resolve in a positive manner.

For the most part, this combination indicates an energetic way to support each other and get motivated to reach higher levels and achieve your personal and team goals. If one of you is consistently more selfish or if you too often seek to have the advantage over the other, trouble will begin. This aspect encourages directness and progress, which can help to resolve your issues if it is done in a fair and respectful way. Avoid pushing, demanding or taking action without discussing important plans first, if you are partners on a project. It isn't so much what you want to do but that you advise the other person of what you are doing and, that you discuss the terms of the goal or goals you are mutually pursuing. A healthy energy flow and a productive competitiveness are easier to come by with this aspect. And, your life will be busy and active in important ways.

George W.'s Moon Trine USA's Mars:

Core Themes: You feel more energized, even exhilarated when you are in each other's company. In fact, the intent of this aspect is to activate your moods and stimulate new feelings in each of you. Perhaps, even feelings you have never felt before or not felt in a long time. There is always likely to be a charge of energy between you and, you have a way of reaching each other on a deeply emotional level. There is a healthy, normal tendency to confront issues that arise between you. Resolving conflict will be easier to handle with this aspect.

Because you generate energy when you are together, the two of you can be counted upon to take action or be in the lead, especially when you are part of a team or group. In fact, you may be involved in social causes or any project where goal setting and forward progress are necessary. Although there is a marvelous, naturally occurring energy between you, don't allow habit to make it dull. Be sure to plan new projects together to regenerate and rejuvenate your business relationship. With a bit of conscious awareness, this aspect is excellent for trading new ideas and enhancing any partnership projects. You will both encourage an atmosphere of aliveness and vitality when you are together. The expression of emotion between you is typically direct or candid and in that way describes a healthy release of emotions. Beyond the work you commit yourselves to, there's more than enough fun and laughter.

George W.'s Moon Conj USA's Saturn:

Core Themes: This aspect indicates that there's seriousness about each other and the quality of your relationship. One meaning of this combination is that you have some important work to accomplish together and you could even go into business together, otherwise conduct business or use each other's services. You are likely to feel a strong commitment and bond with each other that resonates with your own root values. The intent of this aspect is to increase a sense of respectfulness and to develop or reaffirm standards of integrity.

A serious tone, a sense of responsibility, comes into play between you when you are together. This can be positive or it can put a damper on things, depending on what each of you wants from the other. There is a mutual urge for establishing a solid commitment or at least creating rules of engagement for your association or business relationship. Discussions of finances will likely arise early in the relationship. This partnership works best if there are clear structures that both of you agree upon. Important issues in your alliance concern responsibility, accountability, maintaining integrity, timeliness and keeping promises. It's also possible that you may become involved in a certain amount of stabilization, growing a business plan or directing others. As a team, others view you as firm, reliable and dependable. You may be sought out for advice and counsel because others find you responsible or even wise.

George W.'s Sun Square USA's Saturn:

Core Themes: This combination asks you to determine the level of commitment and responsibility you are willing to make. This aspect requires a level of maturity and acceptance of specific responsibilities. No wimps need apply. You have something important to accomplish together. Whatever the developmental level that you are able to reach, this relationship will create an impact that will not soon be forgotten. The intent of this aspect is to strongly test your commitment and the core principles you hold to be real and true. You will be compelled to choose the solution that exhibits the most personal integrity.

There is a serious quality in your relationship and a strong bond with each other. There are bound to be obstacles for you to overcome with this aspect. It just comes with the territory. You may find the challenges strengthening to your association, or they may prove to be burdensome. This level of relating develops endurance; integrity or else requires that you build something lasting together. These energies test your sense of right and wrong. Either one of you may resist these forces and choose not to take on the challenge but if you do, you will be stronger for it. If you dwell only on the difficulties between you, they will loom larger. If you focus on resolving your problems with mutual respect, your business relationship will grow stronger and more stable over time.

George W.'s Sun Conj USA's Jupiter:

Core Themes: This aspect confers great joy, fulfillment and success. Being together brings both of you prosperity and expands life's possibilities or options. In general, this aspect bestows optimism and a generosity of spirit. Enthusiasm and joyousness is normal and natural and risk-taking is typical. Life can be one huge adventure or a series of misadventures; it's your choice! The intent of this aspect is honing your ability to choose wisely amidst a variety of possible experiences.

In a business association, there are elements of expansion and exaggeration and sometimes quite an overly optimistic attitude. Expectations will be high, and it is important to realize that not all of them will be fulfilled. Take your time and choose carefully the opportunities you wish to pursue. Your mutual choices are meant to bring you the greater wisdom of experience. You will need some mitigating aspects of stability and groundedness with other chart connections to balance ego inflation or glib promises that this combination evokes. The dark side to this aspect has to do with excessive ego, exaggeration, opportunism and misjudgment. Be sure to deliver what you've promised, don't juggle more projects than you can effectively handle and watch your spending and you will stay on the lucky side of this combination. This aspect confers optimism and a positive attitude and is particularly suited to sales and promotion of many types.

USA's Sun Square George W.'s Jupiter:

Core Themes: The impulse of the aspect is to exceed limitation, take risks and maintain the freedom to explore new experiences. These desires can at times clash with the more stable requirements or structures of any relationship. The intent of this aspect is also to understand excess, pushing boundaries or taking risks -- when these approaches are appropriate and when they are detrimental, to self, others or environment.

Reckless excessiveness is a common pitfall with this aspect of Jupiter between your charts. Grandiosity and ego-excesses can get in the way of harmonious business relationships with yourselves or others. The choices you make will teach you wisdom faster than you can believe it's possible. You want to live the good life but you may not have the resources immediately at hand. Refrain from overextending yourselves unnecessarily either financially, physically, emotionally or spiritually. Otherwise, your mutual good will could erode into blaming each other for spending your resources or into feelings of being overwhelmed. Unwise decisions, ill-conceived plans or misrepresentation are the perils of this energy combination. Test your ideas or projects for intention and viability.

USA's and George W.'s Mars and Jupiter in mutual soft aspect:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is expansion of knowledge and aptitude through a variety of learning adventures including writing, publishing, promotion, sales, sports or religion. The end result is to attain wisdom and a greater capacity for self-expression - "to be the best you can be". The impulse is for improvement and breaking previous records or boundaries in whatever field you choose.

You are together to motivate, expand and develop your project, to take charge and lead yourselves and others into new territories of experience in your business goals - mentally or even spiritually. You can spread optimism according to your means and you may be philanthropic. There's great joy, good will and possibility in this combination and, as partners, the two of you will continually see the silver lining in any black clouds that drift your way. In a business partnership, benefit and opportunity comes to you from this association. Whatever project you are working on, the impetus is to expand its influence and develop connections to further promote and publicize the product or service. It is your positive attitude that will earn the support of others. Don't make the mistake of resting on your laurels. Be sure to maintain the quality of your product or service.

George W.'s Mars Square USA's Asc.:

Core Themes: This is an energizing aspect at times stimulating or disconcerting in its directness. It initiates a greater awareness of who you are in relation to people and situations around you. The intent of this aspect is to fire up your energies and galvanizes your self-assertive capabilities. It encourages self-understanding, initiation and self-protection if necessary.

You will quickly sense the excitement and at times the tension this aspect produces. Make use of these energies by channeling them into a challenging project. This aspect loves a strong challenge. Each of you will feel that your awareness is raised a notch by your association with the other. And then there could be times when you feel that your business partner is being too aggressive or pushy. You will have to learn to push back, maintain the boundaries comfortable for you and let your partner know when the action is out of line or inappropriate. This aspect is prone to argumentativeness, so it would behoove you to establish some rules in advance for those inevitable times of conflict. You can use up the high energy generated by being project leaders in a mutual endeavor. If you disagree about how to initiate or proceed, then learn to take turns, so that each of you gets to do it your own way at least some of the time. Having independent projects will also alleviate the tension of your differing styles and approaches to situations.

USA's Moon Opp George W.'s Venus:

Core Themes: With an overall tendency to good fortune and harmony, this aspect brings up issues concerning shared values and mutual support. Social connections and interactions are favored and favorable. The intent of this aspect is to address the issues of ease, cooperation and consideration in all interactions and associations and to come to terms with one's value system.

Although there is kinship between you, you may feel undervalued, misunderstood or poorly treated by your associate or business partner. The fondness is there but you'll have to work on the breach of respect or any damage to self-esteem caused by you or your partner. It's important that you put effort into acknowledging the good qualities that each of you has, even though they may be very different from your own. When you are in conflict make sure you don't disparage your partner just because you don't like their choices or values. Be sure to give credit where and when it is due. It's easy to take the good graces and support of your partner for granted but it does harm to the good will of your relationship long term. The purpose of this aspect is to teach you cooperation, negotiation and compromise even in small everyday matters and choices.

Chapter 2: Emotions and Communication

The following aspects detail the quality of your emotional connection, your basic level of comfort and your ease or difficulty in communicating, and discussing emotions and simply understanding where each of you is coming from. Additionally, these aspects help describe how you reason together and resolve issues or problems.

George W.'s Moon in Libra, and USA's is in Aquarius:

Core Themes: Similar emotional needs are indicated, as are, to some extent, comparable dispositions. Daily habits can coincide, making it easier to share the same physical spaces for long periods of time. In matters of timing, it is likely that you will have similar understandings and be more in agreement than not. The intent of this aspect is to find your way to emotional understanding and harmony and to respect the feelings of the other person.

You are blessed with a similar overall emotional style and disposition, which makes understanding each other and working together easier. You share some of the same rhythms and personal habits or predilections that make daily contact more comfortable. Timing will not be as much an issue, in that you can more easily and quickly respond to each other's levels of excitement or emotional energy and empathize with each other's disappointments. You will feel met by the other because you're very much on the same wavelength. Environments that comfort and support you are more often similar than not, for your associate or business partner. Social connections and the types of people you choose to interact with tend to be of the same general type. And you will appreciate the fact that you share many interests and are able to enjoy numerous activities together. This is not to say that at times you won't be totally perplexed by each other's reactions because, of course, there are other factors in each of your personalities that must be considered.

USA's Mercury in Cancer, and George W.'s is in Leo:

Core Themes: Outlook, perspective or styles of problem solving, even communicating, are the core of this aspect. This combination is more challenging because your mode of thinking and communicating tends to be quite different. The intent of this energy combination is to resolve issues of communication, speaking, reasoning etc., so that you can reach solutions and conclusions in creative and original ways.

Although you are associates or business partners, there are times when one of you will have great difficulty in figuring out where the other is coming from and what she or he is trying to tell you. Your styles of communication can be very different. The premise upon which you base your reasoning or the logic you use will often perplex your partner. Especially if you have to decide on projects or activities together, your differences can quickly become an issue between you. Talking things through slowly, step by step, will help each of you to understand how the other arrived at his or her opinion or conclusion. This will take patience but in the end will be worth it. What's more, by taking the time to really understand how your partner is thinking, you can not only learn something important about your partner but also get a different perspective yourself. And you will learn how your communication affects others, since your partner is probably not the only one who can't always understand what you're trying to say or figure out your logic. Your interaction will allow you to fine-tune your own thought processes and become more adept and flexible in the ways you communicate with others. This will be doubly useful if you are in a business that requires writing, speaking or regularly communicating with others.

Chapter 3: Fulfilling Each Other's Relationship Needs

These aspects explain how you meet each other's needs in important business or friendship partnerships. These aspects are based on what your natal chart describes that you're looking for in any major one-on-one relationship interaction.

George W.'s Saturn Conj USA's 7th house ruler, Mercury:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is remembering the important or essential matters of your life, leaving the rest behind, keeping your commitments sacred and honoring them to the best of your ability.

Commitment and responsibility will form the core of your business relationship and the issues you will face. You may feel that your relationship has a fated quality -- that there is a connection between you that is ancient or has roots in long ago. Perhaps you owe each other a debt, because there are times when you distinctly feel a sense of obligation toward your business partner. Your interactions with each other will foster communication about right and wrong, timing and issues of security. Maybe one of you likes to be more organized while the other wants things to be more spontaneous. There's room for compromise, so that both of you feel satisfied with the way things are done at least part of the time. From time to time, you'll struggle with the minutiae of things to do, and you're apt to feel burdened and tired. If this happens too often, it means you're taking on too much responsibility and you've got to hand some off to others. Stick with your expertise or what you truly enjoy about the business and hire others for the lesser or more mundane chores.

George W.'s MC Square USA's 7th house ruler, Mercury:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is to make you aware of the important role of language and communication in the overall successful functioning of your relationship. Communication about goals, priorities and career matters are favored.

Initially, you will become interested in each other through some form of communication, or situation of learning, writing or social networking. Communication, learning, traveling, youth services, writing - any of these can be important interests and assets in the course of your ongoing business relationship. You are together to share knowledge and skills, not only with each other but also within your community circle, which can include local schools, churches, political organizations, programs for children or young adults or any number of other community services that attract your interest. In fact, your business may specifically cater to or benefit some of these types of service. Be aware that the business message you transmit will be heard loud and clear. Make sure the message transmits the way in which you want to be known.

USA's Mars Conj George W.'s 7th house ruler, Uranus:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is to break new ground, take the high road and seek the truth in all your initiatives and interactions. There's a natural rebelliousness and desire to buck the system in this combination that you will need to negotiate.

The unpredictability factor in this combination will create quite sudden changes in each of you. You definitely keep each other awake. Being respectful of each other and giving each other the space to do your own thing are necessary conditions of working together. Feeling hemmed in or restricted will cause disruptive behavior. The combined energies you generate can mean the difference between night and day. This energy is nothing if not innovative and original. So harness the powerful, alert and advanced consciousness you generate in each other by sharing your gifts within a group or organization of like-minded individuals. If you apply these energies, you can be leaders with a unique perception of the future, at the cutting edge of your field. Be sure to respect each other's right to be different, to be the individuals you are. Conforming to someone else's opinion of what is best is not typically your way. Excitement follows you, or you create it and bring fresh ideas to any occasion.

USA's Saturn Trine George W.'s 7th house ruler, Uranus:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is to respect the dual expressions of security and freedom and give each a place in your lives. Banish unfounded fears and discourage needless disruptive rebelliousness through understanding and communication.

You have the opportunity to bring form and structure to your partner's creative ideas. This combination can be tricky, in that there is also the potential to dampen the pure creative spirit and saddle it with too many rules and restrictions. The two of you will have to work out a balance to this dilemma. There's no question that your combined energies need a unique pattern in which to operate and which may not be a conventional mode. Don't let that put you off, as it can be the best way to bring innovation into your business. The issues will, however, center on a sense of commitment and a need for freedom to explore new avenues. It's very possible that one of you feels threatened by the unknown or feels fearful, while the other craves the spontaneity of new experiences and the on-the-spot reactions that are required in new situations. One of you is likely to be very solid and reliable while the other partner exhibits more unpredictable and exciting energy. Because these energies are opposites, the best way to handle them is to seek a balance and find a place in your business partnership for each one to express itself.

USA's Neptune Square George W.'s 7th house ruler, Uranus:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is to respect conflicting and complex needs or expression in yourself and others through communication, understanding, compassion and compromise. This combination is creative and artistic and needs free-flowing expression.

If you prefer a more even-tempered business association, you may find that this aspect is too disruptive. At the same time, it is refreshingly creative and a perfect condition for revivifying your business plans. At times, one of you may feel that the other is being withdrawn or secretive about a particular topic, while the other is often too bluntly truthful. When you honestly and openly communicate what you each need from the other and apply understanding and compassion, your business relationship can fulfill visionary and creative needs. Guard against misunderstandings by being very clear about your expectations of each other in any business contract -- and do have a contract! This combination also benefits from being used in some sort of non-profit, community service or charitable work. And balance your busy, often hectic schedules with enough calm, relaxed downtime, as well as with the typical and equally necessary excitement of social networking and making business connections.

USA's MC Square George W.'s 7th house ruler, Uranus:

Core Themes: The intent of this aspect is to bring greater awareness into your life of the truths you consistently (or unconsciously) live by and those you wish to support with your activity and lifestyle.

It's possible you meet through a work situation or one that prompts your willingness to work together on a joint project. Be aware that this aspect between you contains a certain amount of stubbornness and that you are likely to have a clash of wills from time to time. You'll tend to bring out the "I'm right about this" part of yourselves. Make sure that each of you has charge over your own favorite part of the project or at least the one to which your talents are best suited. Or you may find that you simply need to work on separate projects. Whatever the case, your aspirations are lofty, and you are likely to gravitate to projects and interests that have to do with the acceleration or progression of projects or ideas or other futuristic and advanced trends. Your relationship may be short-lived due to the nature of the project, because distance separate you or simply because you are meant to be catalysts or triggers in each other's lives. In any case, enjoy the excitement.

Chapter 4: Your Closest Contacts, Your Strongest Themes

This section interprets the closest connections between your charts. The wisdom of this section says that the closest aspects explain the major or central themes of your relationship and the reason you have come together. The nature of these aspects will also define the main activities, interests and patterns that affect your relationship life together.

Notice that, in this section, each paragraph contains both the easier expression of energies and the more challenging ones. Both interpretations are included because these close connections pertain to the central learning curve of your relationship. Based on the premise that the more exact the connection (also the closest energetic contact) between your pair of planets, the more psychologically significant the aspect will be for each of you. This means that you are likely to be strongly influenced by each other in the areas described. Because of this, it will be useful to consider both the easier and more challenging interpretations even though you lead with one of them. You will, from time to time and in various circumstances, probably exhibit some elements of each interpretation, both the easier expressions as well as the more challenging ones. Another thing - it's possible with both types of aspects that you will have the same challenges but simply respond or react to them in different ways. The goal is to rise to the best possible expression of each combination. This is the learning curve and this bestows the necessary wisdom to develop your relationship.

USA's Mercury Square George W.'s MC (challenging aspect):

Core Themes: If this is the most exact aspect between your charts, your main relationship theme is presenting your particular message and skills to your community and family and through your career path. You can be in the marketing, advertising, journalism, teaching or writing worlds, because your language and communication skills are clearly obvious.

Challenging aspects: Your many skills and interests can at times distract you from your primary business goals and you need to be aware of this possibility. Spending time regularly going over the list of activities you are committed to and weeding out those that are not relevant to your goals will keep you from getting overwhelmed and underproductive. Scattering your energies will dissipate your message and keep you from the success you desire. Although you need variety, grouping your interests and tackling a few projects at a time will help you achieve more in a shorter time. Back up your talk with action. Determine your greatest strength and let others pick up the slack.

Easier aspects: Much of your communication and conversation with each other focuses on practical career matters or issues pertaining to your top priorities, including your home and family life. Fortunately for your business partnership, there is no end to the generating of ideas. Advertising and promotional material reaching your target market is an excellent outlet for your combined communication or writing skills. Other possible interests, in addition to or part of your main business are the education of children or the continued development of your own numerous interests and skills through further training. You are recognized and sought out in your community for communication, teaching or learning skills.

George W.'s Venus Sextile USA's Mars (easier aspect):

Core Themes: If this is the most exact aspect between your charts, your main relationship theme is to understand the opposing forces and needs for harmony and conflict in your relationship. How you handle conflict is both the problem and the solution.

Easier aspects: Conflict is a fact of life, but the two of you seem to have a particular aptitude in dealing with your differences in a productive and mutually satisfactory way. There's always likely to be a little sparring between you and some healthy debate, but perhaps that's something you enjoy and keeps you on your toes. Finding a balance between the assertive and harmonizing qualities of relationship and life come more easily to you. Others are charmed by the way you handle yourselves as business partners or colleagues. One of you is likely to play the more aggressive or leading role, while the other takes on the human relations and the meeting and greeting part. The important thing to know is that both talents are a necessary part of your business success. Actively building a business of solid and progressive alliances is key to your business goals.

Challenging aspects: There's more of an edge to your conflicts and sometimes your arguments can go too far, and you take unfair advantage or hit below the belt. If you sense frustration mount between you, do something about it immediately before you create negative patterns between you and resentments that are hard to break. Seek an intermediary or mediation if things get too tense in order to reduce and diffuse areas of conflict. If you're going to disagree, at least learn how to be fair. Your conflicts will always be there to some extent, but you can diminish the escalation. Remember it's best not to burn your bridges too readily in the business world. Practice some political savvy. Learn to recognize and appreciate the effort that both of you put into your business relationship.

George W.'s Sun Conj USA's Sun:

Core Themes: If this is your most exact aspect, the major theme of your relationship concerns your expression of willpower, your heart and creativity, your life perspective and how you use these to reach your goals. The roles of ego, loyalty, and your place or position in life are other features of this combination.

Challenging aspects: Often there is a clash of wills, you seek to go about life in dissimilar ways, or you want to handle issues in ways that your partner cannot agree with. Get to the core of your reasons for wanting to pursue a particular method and, in sharing your reasons, cooperation can more easily be gained. As long as you respect each other's methods for achieving admiration, respect and recognition in life, you will be fine. Still, at times, you may not understand how your business partner or associate wants to be recognized and you could fail to give what he or she needs in your teamwork together. With adequate discussion of what is meaningful to each of you and what is intolerable, these misunderstandings can be corrected. If differences cannot be negotiated, you may part ways. Just don't burn your bridges.

Easier aspects: You will experience a general harmony in life processes and expressions when pursuing business projects and in your primary business goals. Your personalities are likely to have some strong similarities that will lend support for your most important enterprises, and you are likely to support each other's enthusiasm. It will be easy, most of the time, to give your business partner the strokes or recognition needed to keep doing their personal best both in terms of your relationship and in developing mutual projects. Both of you have an intuitive understanding of what is needed in order to shine and be noticed and take the lead in areas integral to your business needs.

George W.'s Mars Square USA's Uranus (challenging aspect):

Core Themes: If this is the most exact aspect between your charts, your main relationship themes concern expressing uniqueness and originality and accepting being different or controversial. Standing for truthfulness, the bigger picture, taking the high road and human rights are other characteristics of this aspect.

Challenging aspects: You are both strong-willed individuals who want to do things in your own unique and individual way. Because of this, the necessary compromises in partnership will not be easy for you. Grant each other as much personal leeway as you can handle and still feel that you're in a viable business relationship. It's important for you to be best friends, so never lie to your partner, a cardinal sin with this aspect, one unlikely to be forgiven (or forgotten). Your natural rebellious spirit and tendency to go to extremes can get you caught up in some questionable activities. It's always worth asking what you're trying to change and if how you're accomplishing it is the least destructive way for all concerned. You would be well advised to remember the adage not to "burn your bridges".

Easier aspects: In your business partnership, you seek elevated levels of awareness in your associates and colleagues. Telling the truth and standing up for your individual rights and those of others are keys to the best way to run your business. As partners or colleagues, you are attracted to each other's unique and original qualities. There could be ethnic or religious differences between you, but for you these are what make your relationship special and interesting. You are not in the habit of looking at what the herd is doing before you act. You make your own decisions. This means that you are sometimes seen as unusual or involved in advanced or non-conformist activities. You support human rights issues, and it is important for you to find a group of like-minded individuals with whom you can connect, mingle and conduct business. A piercing clarity and an ability to perceive the bigger picture that encompasses future emerging trends give you the edge. Because you can think outside the box, you'll be ahead of the competition.

George W.'s Neptune Trine USA's 7th house cusp (easier aspect):

Core Themes: If this is the most exact aspect between your charts, your main relationship themes are sensitivity and compassionate attunement to others and to your surroundings. There is also strong artistic sensibility and involvements with faith or religious beliefs.

Easier aspects: Your business relationship has a refined sensibility that notices details and nuances of feeling beyond the external mask you or others wear. This is strength. It may or may not make you a good judge of people, but you will know whose energy you like and want to be around. In some cases, this will amount to the same thing. When you trust your "sixth sense" you are most often correct. You have a silent way of communicating with your business partner that is its own kind of intelligence. You could call it being on the same wavelength. Serving your clients with the greatest of care and attention will earn you repeat customers. Both of you may be interested in service and community works of some kind, because compassion and giving back is highlighted. Bringing hope and inspiration into situations that are difficult, and providing understanding and relief are meaningful in your collaboration. Allow compassion and caring to extend also to yourselves. And reduce stress with music and the arts.

Challenging aspects: Although you are sensitive, you are often overly sensitive and possibly prone to misinterpretation or misrepresenting yourselves. You will need to be doubly aware of the message you put out to the public and to associates about your business matters. Taking enough time to sort through the variables, and sleeping on important business decisions will help. Your kindness and compassion, too, can be misplaced, and you need to be conscious of your boundaries and those of others. Because you are compassionate and caring and others will know this, protecting yourselves from being taken advantage of is important. There are times when you may have to deal with difficult people, fraud or even scandal. Protect yourself from these issues as much as you can by doing everything by the book. Taking short cuts or using questionable legal tactics could come back to haunt you. Avoid substance abuse; it will only complicate your issues. Instead, seek sources of inspiration such as music, the arts, meditation or a regular spiritual practice and spend time with positive people.

George W.'s Mercury Sextile USA's Uranus (easier aspect):

Core Themes: If this is the most exact aspect between your charts, your main relationship themes involve original thinking, creative individuality and a progressive cultural/social awareness and concern for basic human rights.

Easier aspects: This aspect confers potential flashes of brilliance and innovation in thoughts and ideas. You are likely to lead the pack with your progressive advantage and ability to take a wider perspective. Truthfulness is a high value in your business partnerships and will play a key role in all your business dealings. Although each of you is likely to be very opinionated you always respond to the truth of the matter under discussion. In your business practices your talent lies in making up your own minds about what your business stands for and how you conduct yourselves with clients and the community. You do not suffer from needless worry about what others will think. You speak with originality and creativity and a truthfulness that is hard to deny. Your forward-looking, cutting edge sensibilities are your best assets.

Challenging aspects: There are gentleness, affection and tolerance that are easily expressed in your friendship. Your mutual attraction happens more on an energetic level initially. It is only later that you discover how much you have in common in the details of your lives. Your shared spiritual principles could mean you participate in similar spiritual or religious activities. Whatever the case, you are likely to have interesting conversations about life and spiritual practice. Participation in and appreciation of the arts seems a natural and vital part of your lives. One of your gifts is the ability to inspire and smooth over the inevitable hurts and pains of life through understanding and compassion.
